Mediterranean Oculofacial Meeting

12-13 October 2025

Dear friends,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the first Mediterranean Oculofacial Meeting, an event jointly organized by the Greek and Turkish Oculoplastic Surgery Societies in Heraklion, Crete, 12 October 2025. We share a common vision of developing oculoplastic culture, promoting research and education in our scientific field as well as providing optimal clinical services to our patients. Türkiye and Greece are bound to co-exist through history and geography and we believe that such events offer opportunities for exchange of ideas as well as scientific interaction and co-operation between our Oculoplastic and Ophthalmological communities. Hopefully these efforts may also trigger the interest for involvement of more National Oculoplastic Societies from the Mediterranean region.

The scientific program covers wide areas of oculoplastic surgery and pathology, with insights into the current trends in diagnostic technologies, conservative and interventional treatments. We ask you to actively participate and hope you will enjoy it!

On behalf of the organizing committee

Efstathios T. Detorakis

Professor of Ophthalmology, University of Crete

President, Hellenic Ophthalmic Plastic Surgery Society
